Canadian Chief Faces Key Test

OTTAWA, Canada (AP)—
Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal government is going to survive or fall soon on its proposal to give Canada a new maple leaf flag as part of its program to end the separatist movement in French-speaking Canada.

Pearson told the House of Commons Tuesday night he soon would have a Cabinet decision on the new flag's design
to submit to the House and would stand on it as a matter
of policy.

Once Around Roundtown

IT TOOK considerable thought and pondering. . . But Dave Horn, maintenance chief for the Circleville School System, came up with the solution
... He had a valuable assistant from Dr. J. E. Goeller, local dentist. . .

Horn faced a real problem at Atwater School. . . It seems someone fashioned the idea of sticking pins, wood and other foreign matter in keyholes of most doors there. . .

The object apparently was to jam tumblers in the locks so the doors could not be unlocked from the outside. . . The rather tainted plan worked, Horn said
... By chance, the vandals missed one door, making it possible for the building custodian to enter and trip the emergency opening bars on the doors. . .

Although the doors could be opened from the inside, the custodian still faced the perplexing situation of getting them unlocked from the outside. . .

Horn, notified of the trouble, tossed the problem around in his mind on how to solve the difficulty without tearing down about 12 doors. . .

Heading down E. Main St., he noticed the sign at Dr. Goeller's office
... Then the bell rang. . .
He figured probe type instruments used by dentists might do the trick. . . He hurried into Dr. Goeller's office and gave the doctor a brief description of his predicament. . .

A cooperative Dr. Goeller, thinking Horn's idea a sound one, came up with a handful of older probe-type tools he no longer uses. . . And he wished Horn luck in getting the lock tumblers unjammed. . .

Sure enough — the probes did the trick. . . Horn was able to clear the pins and other objects from the keyholes of all doors
but two. . . These he repaired by tearing down the lock assemblies — not the most pleasant of jobs. . .

It was a grateful Horn that returned the probes to Dr. Goeller. . . The local dentist, aware the same thing might happen again, gave Horn four of the handy tools just in case.

YESTERDAY was the warmest day of the year with an official mercury reading of 92 degrees. . . It is believed to be the warmest May 19 here since 1911.

Lady Bird Farm Nets $284

BILLINGSLEY, Ala. (AP)—
Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's farm in Alabama brought her a net profit of only $284.23 last year,
the overseer of the property
said Tuesday.

Wallace Canterbury, the overseer, said Mrs. Johnson's gross income from the farm in 1963 was $2,463.41 and her expenses $2,179.18.

Commons Tuesday night he soon would have a Cabinet decision on the new flag's design
to submit to the House and
would stand on it as a matter
of policy.

"I would make it quite clear," said Pearson, "that when the government submits to Parliament a matter of policy—and this is certainly a matter of policy—the government must stand or fall on the result of the decision of the House."

If former Prime Minister
John Diefenbaker's Conservatives or other opposition parties oppose the new flag, he said, they could make the issue one of confidence. If the government loses a confidence vote, it must resign and new national elections must be held.

Pearson's 13-month-old government lacks a majority in Commons but has not lost a confidence vote yet.

Pearson also said he hoped
"O Canada" could be declared the official national anthem at this session of Parliament. A member of the British Commonwealth Canada has used "God Save the Queen" since it became a dominion in 1867.

Opposition to a new flag is spearheaded by the Royal Canadian Legion of war veterans, whose national convention booed
Pearson in Winnipeg last weekend when he announced he was going ahead with his proposal.

The legion planned a barrage of telegrams to every member of Commons demanding that Canada's battle-honored Red
Ensign be retained.

The present flag, with the British Union Jack occupying the upper left quadrant of a red field, is unpopular in French-oriented Quebec. Under consideration are three designs for a flag featuring a maple leaf, traditional symbol of Canada.

The separatist movement in Quebec and other French-speaking sections of Canada has raised the threat that Canada will split apart. The separatists complain that French Canadians are discriminated against.

Ohio Colleges List Openings For Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Colleges in many parts of Ohio are qualified young people, the Ohio

Foundation of Independent Col-

Sheriff Vote Recount Due Tonight

The recount of the votes in the Pickaway County sheriff's race on the Democratic ballot is slated to begin at 5 p. m. today in the board of elections office at the courthouse.

Incumbent Sheriff Walton
W. Spangler, defeated by a 36-vote margin in the primary, requested the recount last week.

Board of elections officials estimate the recount will take approximately eight hours if all 53 precincts are recounted.

City precincts will be counted first, in numerical order, according to an election board spokesman. A check on county precincts will follow.

THE RECOUNT may be halted
at any time by Sheriff Spangler. Each candidate will have legal representation at the recount.

Only the candidates, representatives of the board and a few legal advisers of the candidates will be permitted to be present during the recount.

Appalachian Aide Books Athens Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The President's development aide on the federal Appalachian commission will be in Athens Friday to examine Ohio's program for 24 participating counties.

William R. Ewald Jr. will confer at Ohio University with State Development Director
George E. Wilson, Ohio's commission representative, university president Dr. Vernon Alden head of the federal job corps program, and members of the Ohio Valley Region Steering Committee.

Wilson said Tuesday that Ohio currently is the only state in the Appalachian program with a fully developed plan.

Ewald wants to find out how Ohio's program fits into plans for stimulating the economy in the federal plan embracing West Virginia and parts of eight other states.

Ewald also will come to Columbus May 28 for another conference with Wilson and his assistant, Charles W. Wiester of Cincinnati.

Members of the steering committee, headed by Alden, include
Dr. Alphas Christiansen, Rio Grande College president; Dr.
Frank Duddy, Marietta College president; Kenner Bush, assistant publisher of the Athens Messenger; B.B. Mills, Ironton;

dent of the Southeastern Ohio
Regional Council, and James

Dixie Baptists Reject Merger

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— Southern Baptists rejected today a proposal for a permanent tie with the other six Baptist groups including the Northern Convention and two Negro denominations.

A written ballot was taken after the move failed to get the required two-thirds majority on a show of hands. The vote was 2,771 to 2,738.

The proposal would have set up a committee on North American Baptist Fellowship. It could have been used to promote closer cooperation among the Baptist groups.

Wallace Draws Nearly 43 Pct. Of Vote in Maryland Election

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—
Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, running as a stand-in for President Johnson, defeated Alabama Gov.
George C. Wallace in a Maryland presidential primary clouded by a close vote and a murky legal question.

In a Democratic race pinned on his opposition to the civil rights bill pending in the Senate, Wallace drew 212,068 votes Tuesday, 42.66 per cent of the party total.

It was better than his showing in Indiana—29.8 per cent—or Wisconsin—33.7—and he claimed vindication in the Maryland vote of his stand against the rights bill originated by John F. Kennedy and pushed by Johnson.

Brewster, 41, a former Marine elected to the Senate only two years ago, was elated by his effort to preserve Maryland's 48 national nominating convention votes for Johnson.

He had been tapped by the party organization—with Johnson's blessing—to take on Wallace in a border state with a recent history of racial strife marked by repeated outbreaks of violence in Cambridge.

Brewster wound up with 264,613 votes, 53.23 per cent of the total. The remaining 4 per cent were cast by voters preferring Andrew J. Easter, a Baltimore draftsman, or an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

"We made the fight and we won and I'm glad," said Brewster.

He aimed this parting shot at Wallace: "In baseball, anyway, it's three strikes and you're out."

Wallace didn't see it that way.
"This Maryland vote," he said, "should let them know in Washington and in both national parties that they can't get rid of us by calling us bad names."

The governor hinted of a possible technical challenge of the results because of Maryland's old unit vote system. Similar to

Pickaway Community Fund Goal Is $38,788 for 1964

GOAL FOR 1964 — These officials of the Pickaway County Community Fund display a sign designating the organization's goal for 1964. Trustees of the Pickaway County Community Fund have recommended a goal of $38,788 for the 1964 campaign here.

This figure was established during a quarterly session
last night at the Courthouse.
The amount represents an increase over the 1963 goal of $37,427.

Members of the budget committee, in studying the fund request proposals, said they feel the increase is needed and justified due to expanded programs and expenses of agencies benefited by the Community Fund.

The committee also noted that this year's campaign expenses,
along with membership expenses for the National Community Fund and the Ohio Citizens Council, are included in the local goal. During the past two years, though goals were not met, the surplus from previous years was sufficient to meet these expenses.

SPOKESMEN also pointed out that the surplus from previous years was utilized to make up the difference between the campaign goal and the amount collected. This made it possible for participating agencies to receive the full amount of their budget requests.

Budget committee officials stressed that there is no sur-

"I have no plans other than staying on as attorney general"
until after the November elec-

'Minutemen's' Arms Cache Confiscated

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—U.S.
Treasury agents have seized a stockpile of machine guns, flame throwers, mortars and explosives and arrested a one-time Illinois leader of "The Minutemen," an extreme right-wing group.

The agents, who posed for weeks as middlemen for an unnamed foreign weapons buyers, said they paid $17,000 to Richard Lauchli, 37, for the arms in an abandoned barn. The agents also arrested Donald Sturgis, 36.

An inventory showed at least 100 submachine guns, five 50-caliber tripod-mounted machine guns, a flame thrower, several 25-pound aerial bombs, several mortars, many automatic pistols and rifles, and ammunition for all the weapons.

In addition, Treasury agents raided Lauchli's home and confiscated more submachine guns and another flame thrower.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Leon Scroggins said Lauchli and Sturgis were charged in a federal complaint in Springfield, Ill., with possession of unregistered automatic weapons. He said Lauchli bought the weapons as scrap and reconditioned them.

Horses Bolt, Boy Is Killed

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—
Henry Miller, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Miller, of Route 2, Millersburg, was killed in an accident late Tuesday on the Miller farm six miles south of here.

The boy was thrown from a horse-drawn wagon when the horses bolted and a wagon wheel ran over his head. His brother, Atlee, 4, was thrown clear of the wagon and escaped injury.

Henry Yoder, 16, an employe who was driving the horses,
also was thrown out and suf-

Armed Forces Placed on Full Alert

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuba observed the 62nd anniversary of its independence from Spain today amid reports of sabotage and threats of armed action against the Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

This was the day on which Manuel Ray, Castro's first minister of public works, promised to be fighting in Cuba against his former chief.

From Havana, The Associated Press reported that Cuban armed forces were placed on a state of alert and all military leaves were canceled.

Then the telephone line went dead, not unusual for circuits between Cuba and the United States.

The Miami exile colony was excited over the possibility that Ray, or one of two other groups would make a raid on Castro's island during the day.

Headquarters of the three groups said only that they still plan to carry guerrilla warfare, sabotage and subversion to their homeland soon.

A shortwave broadcast purporting to originate inside Cuba said this morning that commandos of the anti-Castro Student Directorate, still another exile group, had burned hundreds of acres of sugar cane in eastern Cuba.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, also reported that saboteurs had burned three taxicabs in Havana and that anti-Castro slogans had been painted on walls in Cuba's capital city.

In Miami, officials of the Student Directorate declined to discuss the broadcast, but a spokesman said the organization would issue a communique later in the day.

Havana radio made no mention of the reported sabotage,
but blared defiance to aggressors and announced new pre-

Utah Tutors Shun Pacts

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah
(AP)—Utah's 10,000 public school teachers have voted to end a two-day walkout, after preparing for the next round in their fight for more money for education.

About 90 per cent of the teachers voted Tuesday to resume teaching today, but they also decided not to sign next year's contracts until a special legislative session is called to consider an emergency $6 million school appropriation, and other demands are met.

The normal time for signing
teachers' contracts has gone by.
Chances of recruiting new teachers from out of state appear slim. The National Education Association asked its 902,000 members not to accept jobs in Utah until the crisis is over.

Besides the legislative session,
the teachers asked at a mass meeting for approval of Utah Education Association solutions to "the financial problems of the educational situation"

Viet Nam Asks for Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—
A South Vietnamese spokesman at the United Nations says his government wants border talks with Cambodia and would welcome U.N. help to arrange them.

Pham Khanh Rau, charge d'affaires of the South Vietnamese Embassy in Washington, stated
this position in an interview
Tuesday night after the Security Council opened debate on a charge by Cambodia that South Vietnamese raids across its border constituted aggression by South Viet Nam and the United States.

Rau denied the aggression charge. He said the border incidents arose because the Viet Cong Communists fighting to overthrow his government
"have been able to use Cambodian territory as their sanctuary."

With the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia voting no, the Security Council voted 9-2 Tuesday to let South Viet Nam join in the debate. The Saigon government first must send credentials authorizing a representative to speak for it since South Viet Nam is not a member of the U.N.

The debate was recessed until Thursday to await word from Saigon.

The patrol said the man, who was not identified, began shooting after officers stopped a car that had been reported stolen. He then fled on foot. Neither officer was wounded.

Another man, who told the patrolmen he was a hitch-hiker, reportedly was driving the car.

Equal Employment Right Pondered by Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans met behind closed doors today to consider amendments to the provision of the civil rights bill that has evoked the most GOP criticism — equal employment opportunity.

After a session Tuesday on the 10 other titles of the bill, Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he is confident some senators have been swayed to the side of cloture.

"I believe we have satisfied a good many people on a good many things," he said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, made the same claim on his side after a party conference on the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Dirksen told newsmen, however, he does not think the Southern filibuster can be shut off before early June.

The title against job discrimination takes up about half of the bill's 55-page text and has aroused much opposition among Republicans.

Dirksen, chief author of the package of amendments, devoted many of his proposed changes to this section.

He said in advance of today's caucus he is confident these amendments will meet substantially the objections to the provision as it cleared the House.

Meanwhile, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., told a reporter he will support cloture when he is convinced the time has come to settle the controversial legislation.

But he said there must be more debate now that the leaders have proposed a package of 70 amendments.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-O said he will vote to close debate if necessary to pass the bill. He said the proposed amendments "appear to have greatly improved the bill."

With most of the maneuvering over the bill taking place off the Senate floor, Southern senators are prepared to continue their lengthy speeches against it in the chamber. This is the 60th day of the debate.

Broadcasts monitored in Miami did not mention the armed forces alert and cancellation of military leaves, but the Cuban Ministry of Health called for blood donations for "any emergency."

The Cuban Armed Forces Ministry said today that coastal artillery and military jet planes would hold maneuvers along the northwest coast of Cuba.

A spokesman at headquarters of Ray's organization in Miami said: "We are waiting to hear from him in Cuba. We have not heard from him."

The Citizens Committee for Cuba said today it has been informed that some infiltrators entered Cuba Tuesday night.

The committee said the group is small and it would be misleading to call the operation a landing.

The committee is an organization of U.S. citizens opposed to the Fidel Castro regime. It has headquarters in Washington. It says its aim is to "help create a climate of public opinion that will facilitate positive action" on Cuba.

The committee maintains close contacts with anti-Castro Cuban xils in Miami, Fla., and elsewhere and is usually well informed on their activities.

McNamara recalled the contribution of Kosciuszko, Van Steben and Pulaski to the fledgling United States and said "the mission of our men in South Viet Nam is the same as the mission of those Europeans who came to assist us in our fight for liberty."

Major Space Plans Lag

U.S., Soviet Both Face Problems

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — It may be a year before either the United States or the Soviet Union undertakes major new manned space ventures.

Both countries must solve crucial problems before they can try space experiments more spectacular than the manned orbital flights of 1963.

During the annual meeting of the International Committee on Space Research — COSPAR — which closed today, United States and Soviet scientists said manned space flights had raised the question of whether a man could tolerate more than five days in space with present equipment.

The scientists said astronauts were showing such after-effects of space flights as low blood pressure. Delegates from both Jay flights by Soviet astronauts last year were about the longest that could be safely attempted now.

Prof. Anatoli Blagonravov, chief Soviet delegate, said it might be a year before his country is ready to try a major new venture.

The United States reported it planned to start flights by two-man Gemini ships by the end of 1964 or early in 1965. Privately, American scientists said the first Gemini ship probably would not be launched for a year.

The Soviet Union and the United States plan to continue sending satellites and rockets aloft. —By the end of 1964, a Mars probe by a U.S. Mariner rocket that will fly past the planet and transmit television pictures back to earth.

—By 1970, U.S. and Soviet attempts to put artificial satellites in orbit around Mars.

U.S. Fishing Rights

A government-backed bill has been introduced in the Canadian senate to establish 12-mile fishing zones off Canada's coasts. Under it the government would set a territorial zone of three miles and a fishing zone extending nine miles further.

Canadian trawlers more than 65 feet long are currently prohibited under regulations aimed at conservation from dropping their nets and lines within the 12-mile limit. But, because of traditional fishing rights, United States trawlers can do so. This situation has long ranked Canadian fishermen.

Ancient treaty rights, which the United States obtained in perpetuity from Great Britain in 1818 permitting American trawlers to fish within the territorial three-mile limit in certain well-defined areas, will remain untouched. These areas are off the west coast of Newfoundland, off Labrador, and around the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Similar treaty rights, dating from 1713 and modified in 1904, are enjoyed by France. Fishermen from that country cross the Atlantic and operate from the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, off the south coast of Newfoundland. They have inshore fishing privileges on the west coast of Newfoundland and on parts of the northeast coast of the island province. The federal government has no intention of reneging on these obligations.

The matter of so-called historic rights, as distinct from treaty rights, is more delicate. Countries with historic rights include, in addition to the United States, France, Spain, Portugal, Norway, Denmark and Italy. Trawlers from these countries operate in the Canadian three-to-12 mile limit. The Canadian government viewpoint is that an adjustment period of perhaps 10 years will be necessary for such nations to give up their historic rights.

But Russian and Japanese trawler fleets which have been encroaching on Canadian grounds in increasing numbers in recent years (they have neither treaty nor historic rights) are expected to be the biggest losers.

The United States market accounts for 75 per cent of Canada's fish exports, amounting to $157 million. Conditions unacceptable to American fishermen could have serious repercussions, as Ottawa must be aware. Some congressmen in Washington are watching this developing situation closely.

Learning Is Not for Parents

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—There is nothing like a disaster to bring a family close together.

That is the only nice thing I can say about the fifth grade of grammar school.

There are only three of us in our family—me, my wife Frances and our daughter, Tracy Ann.

As I see it, this is hardly enough to get through the fifth grade successfully, you need a larger family. I would think a family of about 12 would be right—of whom one would be in the fifth grade. And the other 11 would spend most of their time helping him get through that ordeal.

Nature's such a family would include a professional mathematician, a doctor, a lawyer, a judge, an engineer, a lexicologist, an anthropologist, a carpenter, a botanist, an Eagle scout, a musician, a physical culturist and an all-around intellectual.

As I remember education in my own youth, it crept upon me gradually. It was a gathering residue. You learned by degrees.

This is not true any more. Now educators boobytrap the child. And the parents too. They cozy them through kindergarten and the first four grades. Kids skip joyously through this prelude to knowledge hand in hand. It is such fun.

Then in the fifth grade they suddenly lower the boom. All at once the child is in Harvard Graduate School. And not just the child. The whole family.

Life becomes a terrible quiz game.

"Daddy, we are studying the multiplication of fractions. Can you help me?"

Well, have you ever tried to multiply a fraction after the age of 40? It simply can't be done.

Daddy, give me an example of a collective noun."

Well if you mention the finance company or the loan department of the bank, it turns out that isn't what the teacher meant.

"Daddy, I have to write a science essay on Pleistocene glaciation. How shall I begin?"

Begin? When a fellow gets a clear field on a fascinating topic like that, how can he ever bear to quit?

Home is no longer home to me. Home is where my wife and I try to help our daughter do her homework.

So far the teacher is giving our family pretty fair grades.

We no longer worry about getting our daughter into a good college. Our ambition is to get her through the fifth grade.

Learning is for the young. We can't take it anymore.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FORMER President Harry Truman revealed to Marianne Means for her book, "The Woman in the White House," that he once discovered his good wife Bess on her knees in their Independence, Mo., residence, burning papers in the fireplace. He asked her what she was doing.

"I'm burning your letters to me," she said, shoveling in the remainder. "Bess, you oughtn't do that," he reprimanded her. "Think of history!" "I have," said Mrs. Truman.

Dr. George Stevenson, of the National Association for Mental Health, offers these suggestions for calming tensed-up nerves: 1. Don't bottle up anger. Find some way of venting it, such as sawing wood or taking a long hike. 2. Find a sympathetic ear. Putting vague fears into words helps ease them. 3. Listen to the other fellow's troubles. Everybody has plenty of them. They'll put your own in better perspective. 4. Practice "giving in" on some points. Always insisting on having your own way takes a high toll. 5. Turn your back on your problems for a while. A trip, a show, or above all, an amusing book can give your jangled nerves a valuable respite.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My daughter is pregnant for the second time. She and her husband were just told that the baby, when born, will be an "RH" baby. They are both terrified. Neither one really understands what "RH" means, and they seem to be ashamed to ask the doctor to repeat the explanation he had given them. Can you enlighten all of us, and perhaps dispel our fears?

Mrs. O.R.T., Indiana
Dear Mrs. T.: Even to those well versed in the intricacies of blood groupings, RH factors can become confusing. Before undertaking the scientific explanation, it should be emphasized that modern obstetrics has progressed to the point where dangers to the newborn RH baby are reduced to a minimum.

The chances for survival and good health are now excellent. When necessary, advanced techniques for immediate transfusion of blood in the newborn insure safety.

When any confusion exists about this or any other medical problem, patients must be adult enough to tell their doctor frankly that they do not understand the given explanation. For sometimes patients and their families are so tense that they actually misunderstand even the simplest explanation.

The letters "RH" were chosen because the original studies were performed on the Rhesus monkey.

All people have as one of their blood components an RH factor. Most people are RH positive. A few are RH negative.

A newborn baby will not be affected when the mother and father are both RH positive, or when they are both RH negative.

If the mother is RH positive and the father RH negative, the newborn baby will still not be affected.

It is only when the mother is RH negative and the father is RH positive that strict observation during pregnancy is important.

Then if the baby growing in the womb of the mother has inherited the father's RH positive factor, a complex phenomenon occurs that may produce anemia and jaundice at birth.

It is interesting to note that the first-born child is rarely, if ever, an RH baby.

A scientific explanation may satisfy intellectual curiosity. Potential parents of an RH baby, however, need also the assurance that this condition is today controllable with safety and without any permanent effects on the growth and health of the child.

School Prayers

By John Chamberlain

The question of overturning the Supreme Court decision on voluntary prayers or Bible readings in public schools was a big issue in the Maryland primaries. The issue is posed against a background of a concerted effort in the U. S. House of Representatives to approve a new constitutional amendment designed to clarify what should already be the plain fact that our forefathers who wrote the Bill of Rights did not intend that the federal government should interfere with local decisions relating to prayer in educational institutions.

The opponents of a voluntary prayer period in the schools are making much in Maryland of the news that Gerald L. K. Smith, who has been an anti-Semite, is pressuring the U. S. Congress to undo the anti-prayer ruling of the Supreme Court. This, of course, is a not-to-subtle way of imputing guilt by association: if you are for voluntary prayers, you must be an anti-Semite because Gerald L. K. Smith is for prayers, too. This is an almost exact parallel to the tactics used by extremists of the Right when they argue that the push of the Negroes for civil rights must be a Communist plot simply because some Communists have identified themselves with some civil rights organizations. When the Right indulges in such argument, the Left yells "McCarthyism." But Leftists are not above McCarthyism when it serves their own purposes.

A more defensible, but still pretty slippery, tactic used against those who think the Supreme Court made a mistake in its prayer decision is to argue that any questioning of the Court's ability to read plain English is a "plot against the Bill of Rights." The truth is that the language of the First Amendment merely prohibits Congress from making a law respecting the establishment of a religion. The prohibition relates to a federal body, not a state. Under any strict reading of the law, a state or a school board can do as it pleases in the matter of ordaining religious exercises.

That our constitution-writing forefathers did not construe the First Amendment in the same fashion as the Warren Court is proved by Thomas Jefferson's proposed curriculum for the University of Virginia, a tax-supported institution Jefferson wanted the professor of ethics at the University to present "the proofs of the being of a God . . . the author of all the relations of morality, and of the laws and obligations these infer. . . Jefferson, of course, is known as the Father of the Bill of Rights.

If he could advocate public school presentation of "the proofs of the being of a God," could he have been against voluntary school prayers?

The pragmatic evidence of 170 years of our national history is that prayers in school have not had the slightest tendency to create an "established" religion. The U. S. has had a vast profusion of sects, both Christian and anti-Christian. It has had its agnostics and village atheists. Its Colonel Robert Ingersoll was, perhaps, the most famous atheist in the world — and Bob Ingersoll lived a perfectly free life, with no attempt on the part of any bishop or prelate or meddling minister to suppress his freedom of speech. During our 170 years of history under the pre-Warren Court interpretation of the First Amendment, the secular weakening of religion steadily increased. Under a different clause of the same First Amendment people in America are free to argue whether this is a good or bad thing. But one thing is certain: the weakening of the hold of the churches on the people is proof positive that prayers in school have been powerless to "establish" a religion.

The argument that one is an "enemy" of the First Amendment if one contests the Warren Court's reading of the religious clause which forbids Congress to establish a church thus falls by the wayside. If it is illegal for a local school body to make provision for voluntary prayers, or for Bible reading as part of education, then it is illegal for the government to print "In God We Trust" on currency, or to open a Congressional or court session with a prayer, or to pay for chaplains in the armed forces, or to ask anyone to take an oath on a Bible.

I don't want to impeach Earl Warren or any of the other justices. I just want to take up a collection to give them a course in remedial reading. The Chief Justice needs it before he swears in the next President of the U. S. on a Bible.

AP To Utilize NBC Computer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and NBC News entered into an agreement today to provide to Associated Press members "NBC's electronic vote analysis" of elections.

The announcement was made jointly by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president in charge of NBC News, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

The National Broadcasting Co.'s service, called "electronic vote analysis," utilizes a bank of RCA 301 and RCA 3301 computers to furnish extensive data explaining and comparing the results in the presidential election—nationally, and by state—and in all gubernatorial and senatorial races. The material will be used by AP in its daily news report to its 8,000 members and subscribers around the world.

The Associated Press will continue its traditional comprehensive vote tabulations of all races in all states separately from NBC's tabulation.

"Use of our EVA data by the world's foremost wire service is testimony to its effectiveness, as demonstrated in NBC News' coverage of the Oregon primary elections last Friday," McAndrew said.

"This analysis of voting trends and speedy interpretation of returns brings to Associated Press members the advantages of the latest electronic techniques to supplement The Associated Press' basic task of tabulating election results on local and national levels," Gallagher said.

"To gather this information manually would take months of work and tens of thousands of man hours," he added. "By use of electronic vote analysis this information will be available election night."

Although the agreement with The Associated Press is exclusive, NBC News may, at its discretion, provide the same service directly to AP newspaper members.

The analysis is based on a mass of detailed information that has been prestored in the computers, including all vote histories and data on "tag areas." The tag areas are precincts, wards and counties that have been selected by NBC News to represent the political behavior pattern of groups within an electorate.

The computers can provide differential analysis, showing any deviation from the norm, as, for example, that the Eastern states are voting differently from another group of states or the country as a whole. They can compare results in any part of the country with its previous history or with another area.

The data is transmitted by Teletype lines directly from the computers without human intervention. However, key members of the NBC News team are allowed to add news values to the differentials by Teletyping information directly to the computer's memory while it continues to analyze and tabulate.

The computers print out the information in English, as, for example, that one candidate "is running behind in Chicago because of the heavy Negro vote."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace has proved his point: There is wide opposition to President Johnson's civil rights bill to give Negroes equal treatment in many spheres of American life.

This is what he said he wanted to prove when he entered the presidential primaries in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland, where a victory would have let him capture their delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

He lost in all three in running against stand-ins for Johnson: In Wisconsin to Gov. John W. Reynolds; in Indiana to Gov. Matthew E. Welsh; and Tuesday in Maryland to Sen. Daniel B. Brewster.

But—in Wisconsin he got about 34 per cent of the Democratic vote, in Indiana about 30 per cent and in Maryland roughly 40 to 45 per cent.

His main appeal was against the civil rights bill—now stuck for 11 weeks in the Senate because of a Southern filibuster against it.

It is too soon to say what effect his showing, particularly in Maryland, will have on the bill. But it will fortify the Southerners who can say now with good evidence that they're not alone in wanting it killed.

If the supporters of civil rights can take any solace from the results of Wallace's three campaigns it is this: In all three states the majority of the voters were against him.

Probably very few of the people voting in these primaries have read the civil rights bill in its entirety or, if they have, could claim to understand all its legal implications.

Wallace combined his attack on civil rights with an appeal to those who see, or think they see, the encroachment of socialism in American life.

He said at one rally: "This bill would take over every home, farm, business, and labor union in your state. The left-wingers want to drive this country straight to socialism."

Knowing that liberals, favoring civil rights legislation, were against him, Wallace's appeal was to conservatives and racists. He said he expected to get a vote which would knock the liberals' "eyeteeth" out.

Always he argued the civil rights bill is an invasion of states' rights. Putting equal treatment for Negroes in double harness with states' rights was probably especially helpful to Wallace in Maryland.

That state has been up to its neck in the states' rights issue.

One of the cases in which the Supreme Court ruled out official prayers in public schools came from Baltimore. The Maryland House of Delegates has been re-appropriated by court order. And a federal court has ordered the state's congressional districts redrawn.

Last March, the Maryland Legislature passed a public accommodations law—the Senate's civil rights bill has a somewhat similar provision—prohibiting racial or religious discrimination by operators of restaurants, hotels, inns and similar eating and lodging places. It did not apply to bars, taverns or cocktail lounges.

On top of all this, there had been severe racial disturbances on Maryland's Eastern Shore, especially in Cambridge, where National Guardsmen last week used tear gas to disperse demonstrating Negroes.

All these factors had Maryland steamed up before Wallace ever got there. He didn't miss any bets in talking on the sore points. For instance, he brought in the Supreme Court's ban on official prayers or required Bible reading.

Early this month, preaching in a Baptist church, he asked, "Did you ever think the Bible would have to be bootlegged into the schools?"

Bird Lays Her Eggs in Expressway

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mamma bird went one better on the old saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket."

She laid four speckled eggs in the middle of a four-lane freeway under construction south of Akron. Workmen are guarding the eggs like gold.

Heavy trucks are detoured around the spot, marked by three warning markers forming a triangle.

Mamma, a six-inch-long black and white killdeer, sits on the eggs at night when the workmen have gone home. During the day she backs off about 30 feet and shrills, as killdeers often do, when a human approaches the future family.

Then she tries to lead the curious away from the triangle. Workmen hope the eggs will hatch before concrete is poured in the area. Until then, they stand firm:

"Nobody's gonna harm those eggs."

OSU Polar Group Set For Journey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first contingent of scientists from Ohio State University's Institute of Polar Studies who will spend the summer in Greenland now plan to leave Thursday.

The group of five scientists—the first of 17 men to carry on research programs in the Arctic this summer—had planned to leave Monday, but their departure was delayed because their military travel orders failed to arrive in time, said Richard L. Cameron, assistant to the director of the institute.

Of the 17 scientists, 10 plan to work in Greenland. The others will work in the Yukon Territory in Canada and at the Muir Inlet in Alaska's Glacier Bay National Monument.

The five who plan to leave for Greenland Thursday are Dr. Fritz Loewe, research associate and visiting professor from the University of Melbourne, Australia; Dr. Derry D. Koob, research associate and assistant professor of botany at Ohio State, and his research assistant, Edward J. Webster of Columbus. Dr. Kaye R. Everett of Worthington, research associate, and Arthur S. Rundle of England, research associate.

This will be the third summer the institute has conducted research programs in Greenland.

Three more scientists are scheduled to leave for Greenland June 17 and two others July 15.

What Is Rights Bill Designed To Change?

EDITOR'S NOTE—For 11 weeks the Senate has been locked in a debate on the civil rights bill. About the only action has been moves by supporters and opponents to amend the measure. Perhaps lost in the thunder of fury is what the bill, described as the most sweeping civil rights measure since Reconstruction, is designed specifically to do. Beginning today is the first of a three-part series spelling out the bill's provisions and the changes being considered.

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 11 weeks of Senate debate on the civil rights bill have produced agreement so far on only one thing—that the measure must be amended.

At first, the bill's sponsors and administration officials argued that the senate should pass the measure in the same form as it came from the House.

As the weeks have gone by, this position has been eroded.

Now Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the bill's floor managers are supporting a package of amendments.

The biggest push for changes has come from two sources—the 19 Southerners fighting the bill and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

In recent weeks, however, they have centered their fight on the jury trial issue. They demand the bill specify the right of a jury trial for every defendant in criminal contempt actions that arise out of civil rights enforcement suits under the bill. Normally, contempt actions in federal courts are decided solely by the judges.

Dirksen has proposed 70 amendments to meet features of the legislation he considers muddy or objectionable. After a series of conferences, Dirksen, Kennedy and a bipartisan group of senators reached agreement on the package of amendments. They contended the changes would not injure the bill but would win over some of those who were lukewarm or downright cool to the measure.

Dirksen has proposed numerous technical changes but concentrated his efforts in two areas. In both, his ideas have been incorporated in the compromise amendment package, at least in part.

One of his efforts is to cut back on the government's power to file suits to enforce the bill.

The other is to write into the bill specific language reserving to the states the right to act exclusively for definite time periods where states have laws covering the same subject as some titles in the bill.

So far, despite all the talk of amendments, no change has been made in the bill which cleared the House 290 to 130 on Feb. 10.

As it stands now one of the most controversial provisions is the one dealing with public accommodations.

The House version states that all persons must be given access to specified establishments without regard to race, color, religion or national origin.

Named are hotels and motels—except for small owner-operated establishments with five rooms or less for rent—restaurants, amusement places, gasoline stations and establishments located within one of the preceding types or serving their patrons.

Bona fide private clubs would not be covered unless their facilities were open to the public for dining or overnight accommodation.

Any establishment would be opened to all persons even if it were required by state or local law to discriminate.

The bill now provides for enforcement through filing of an enforcement suit by the aggrieved person or the attorney general.

Under the Dirksen amendment package, this would be changed so that the attorney general could file only if a pattern of discrimination existed. Otherwise, the individual would have to sue.

Under the House bill, the attorney general, before bringing a suit, would have to refer a complaint to a state or local agency for corrective action if one existed.

Dirksen proposes to write in a definite time period for the state to act before any federal action could be taken. He points out that 34 states now have public accommodation laws, many containing criminal penalties. There are no such penalties in the proposed federal statute.

The House bill provides that if a person violated an injunction obtained under this title and were tried for criminal contempt, he would have to be given a jury trial if the penalty were more than 45 days in jail or a $300 fine.

The Southerners argue that this is insufficient; they demand the right to a jury trial whatever the penalty.

Dirksen and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana are sponsoring an amendment which would guarantee jury trials if the penalty exceeded 30 days or a $300 fine. This would apply to all titles of the bill.

Coin Thieves Leave 'Junk' Items Behind

CLEVELAND (AP)—"They left the junk and took the good things," is the way a Shaker Heights coin collector described burglars who cracked a safe and took an estimated $200,000 in rare coins over the weekend.

John Fay, owner of John Fay enterprises, said today that virtually his entire collection was taken from his office.

The FBI has entered the investigation on the possibility that the coins were taken across a state line. Fay has offered a $25,000 reward for information leading to the capture of the burglars and return of the coins.

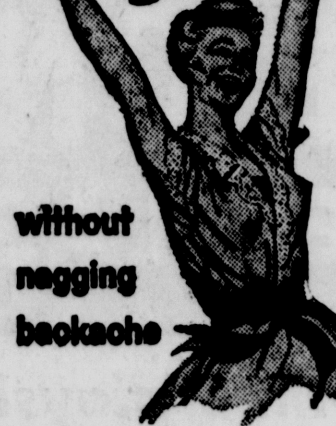

Among the missing coins were 30 rolls of 1950 D series nickels, worth $900 a roll. Also taken, Fay said, were three $20 gold pieces, dated 1870, 1877 and 1876, respectively. Some were in "pr. of condition," Fay said. "They were a special struck coin with a particularly sharp cut edge and had an outstanding brilliance."

He described an 1868 large one-cent piece, also stolen, as "quite rare with no estimated value."

New Flag For Canada Proposed

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said today his Cabinet has decided to replace Canada's Red Ensign with a flag featuring maple leaves, and plans to choose Thursday the specific design it will place before Parliament.

He told reporters that the question of procedure on the flag issue has yet to be settled but he hopes the parliamentary debate would take place before the two houses take a summer recess.

Pearson said the design discussions were all variations of the maple leaf. He indicated they were:

—Three maple leaves on a white background.

—Three maple leaves on a white background with blue bars at each end.

—Three maple leaves on a light blue background.

Lynchburg Is Winner In School Lawsuit

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Residents of the Lynchburg-Clay School District in southern Highland County have the green light to go ahead with their new high school.

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer of Circleville Tuesday granted their petition for a permanent injunction against the county school board that wanted to merge Lynchburg-Clay with two other districts. The judge ruled that the county board had the right to merge the districts, but abused this right by changing the status of Lynchburg-Clay several times before ordering the merger on March 17.

Filibustering Considered An Ancient Legislative Art

By JONATHAN EDWARDS
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The great debate in the Senate over civil rights legislation once again focuses the nation's eyes on that institution known as the filibuster, in which an effort is made by a minority of senators to talk a bill to death.

However, interestingly enough, not every filibuster has sought to defeat legislation and there was one filibuster in which a senator defeated a bill without uttering a word. And the filibuster originated in the House, not the Senate.

Historians generally credit John Randolph of Virginia with being the first filibuster. In the early 1800s, when Randolph was a House member, he spoke at great length against virtually all innovations. "I am more and more set against all change," he stated.

Randolph was a character not to be trifled with, since he often came to the House wearing a brace of pistols, accompanied sometimes by one or two hunting dogs. When Randolph moved to the Senate, the House adopted rules curbing unlimited debate.

That ended the filibuster in the House. In the Senate, Randolph repeated his tactics and when Vice President John C. Calhoun failed to curb him the filibuster became a Senate institution. That was in 1825-1827.

In 1872, the filibuster really became entrenched when Vice President Schuyler Colfax ruled in effect that a senator could speak on any subject he desired. In other words, the filibustering senator could determine what was relevant.

The all-time record holder

Sen. Strom Thurmond Sen. Bob LaFollette Sr.
—Both set records for filibustering.

for a filibuster is Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who spoke for 24 hours, 18 minutes in 1957 against a civil rights bill. It took that long to tell the Senate in his closing words, "gentlemen, I expect to vote against this bill."

However, back in 1903, Sen. Albert J. Beveridge, R-Ind., killed a bill without uttering a word. Beveridge was chairman of the Senate Territories Committee and he opposed statehood for Arizona and New Mexico. The custom being not to take a vote unless the committee chairman was present, Beveridge simply hid out in Atlantic City and the bill died.

Most colorful filibuster of the 20th Century was Sen. Huey P. Long, D-La. In 1935, the "Kingfish" spoke for 15½ hours against st expansion of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Long always larded his talks with culinary advice on how to fry oysters and make pot likker.

Southern senators are past masters at filibustering, in good part because they are well versed in the Senate's rules. A western senator, Glen H. Taylor, D-Idaho, pulled a cropper in 1948 because he was deficient in this area.

Taylor was speaking against the draft bill when he made the mistake of reading a telegram from a New York housewife in which she congratulated him for opposing "special interests of enemies of the peace." Sen. Owen Brewster, R-Maine, forced him to end his filibuster and take his seat by citing Rule 19 which forbids a senator from imputing unworthy motives to colleagues.

A very famous filibuster in his time was Sen. Robert F. LaFollette Sr., R-Wis. He set a record for speaking in 1908 for 18 hours, 23 minutes, which stood for 30 years. LaFollette spoke against a bill permitting banks to issue currency based on security other than federal bonds. This filibuster failed when blind Sen. Thomas P. Gore, D-Okla., who supported LaFollette, yielded the floor, as prepared, to Sen. William J. Stone, D-Mo., who had momentarily left the floor.

Former Polio Victim Drowns While Wading

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A former polio victim, who apparently could not swim, was drowned Tuesday while wading in the Little Miami River at Morrow in southern Warren County. Sheriff Byron Kennard Sr. identified him as Ray Patrick McCracken, 19, Morrow. He said two small boys saw McCracken go into water over his head, but by the time they could summon help, it was too late.

State Mental Hospital Case Load Declines

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The nation's population of the state's hospitals for the mentally ill and retarded is running about a thousand less than a year ago, officials say.

At the end of the first three months of this year, the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction says, the patient total was 32,338. That compares with 33,089 a year earlier.

At the end of 1963, it was at the close of 1962. And last September—after the first three months of the bookkeeping year—it was 32,408, against 33,435 at the same time in 1962.

Fred M. Case, department public relations officer, said the all-time high patient population in Ohio's state hospitals was 36,331 at the end of June 1959. With the exception of occasional surges, it has been dropping steadily since, Case said.

The department attributes this, he said, to improving methods of treatment, drugs and out-patient care. But he noted that state hospitals still are overcrowded and 39 per cent of those previously treated in Ohio's state institutions return for further treatment.

Counting those who never have been in one of Ohio's state hospitals, but have had previous treatment in some other facility, the re-admission rate is around 50 per cent, Case added.

Of the 32,338 total at the end of March, 22,284 were classified as mentally ill and 10,054 as retarded.

Case pointed out also that the admission rate has been rising, from 10,341 a decade ago to more than 17,000 annually now.

Blind Man Shoots His Neighbor

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A 49-year-old Portsmouth man was shot between the eyes last night in a scuffle with a blind man, police reported.

Shot was Charles Webb. He was reported in poor condition in University Hospital, Columbus. Police were holding Albert Sparks, 69, who lives in an alley house behind Webb's home. Police said Sparks, who has been blind for 33 years, told them that Webb had beaten him several times recently and had been stealing things from his home.

Sparks fired four times at Webb as he came into Sparks' kitchen Tuesday night, police said, but failed to hit him. The pair struggled into the bedroom, where the gun went off again, striking Webb between the eyes, police said.

ALIVE BY COINCIDENCE—Mrs. Marie Neilson holds an airline ticket she didn't use in San Francisco and thanks her lucky stars for the coincidences which prevented her from boarding two planes which crashed, killing all aboard. She missed the Paradise Airlines flight which crashed March 1, killing all 85 aboard, because her husband Gene, whom she planned to meet in Reno, Nev., came home a few days early. And she missed the Pacific Air Lines flight that crashed May 7, killing all 44 aboard, because her husband drove her home the day before. She holds her Pacific Air Lines ticket.

Dear Abby: You Did Wrong Lady!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Could you went through the same thing many years ago. My hair was mousy brown and as straight as a poker. My husband's was dark brown—what there was of it. Our son had a head full of reddish-gold curls. My oil man, who showed up every now and then, had hair exactly the same color as my son's, and he looked more like the boy's father than my own husband. Some stories got back to me that were positively outrageous. I finally had to change oil companies to shut up the neighbors.

COURT STREET

DEAR LE MARS: Stuffed animals are usually for young children. (Most 44-year-old men prefer live bunnies.) A postoperative patient is in no mood to split his stitches over an Easter rabbit, so don't hold your son's lack of enthusiasm against him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would put a diaper on a nine-year-old boy and make him parade around the school yard for punishment for wetting his bed? This lady must be cracked.

LIVES ACROSS THE STREET DEAR LIVES: This woman is more than "cracked." She is cruel and ignorant. Bed-wetting is a symptom of an emotional problem, and to humiliate a child for wetting the bed will cure nothing and only compound the problem. I urge you to call on this neighbor (even if you know her slightly) and try to convince her to take her boy to a doctor and to heed his advice.

DEAR ABBY: I laughed when I read the letter from the woman whose child didn't look anything like her or her husband, which was a constant source of embarrassment to her. I

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Temperatures plunged to much lower levels during the night as a cold front moved southward through the state.

Readings this morning were as much as 40 degrees below Tuesday's high temperatures. Toledo reported 49 degrees this morning, compared to 92 Tuesday afternoon. At Columbus a low of 53 compared with the record high of 92 on Tuesday.

Afternoon temperatures today were to be mostly in the upper 60s or 70s.

Cloudiness covered the northern counties this morning as cool air moved southward across Lake Erie, but most of the state was sunny.

Tonight was to be even cooler with temperatures expected to be in the 30s and 40s by Thursday morning.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

OHIO—Temperatures through Monday will average near normal to about 5 degrees above. Some normal high and low temperatures are Cincinnati 77-56, Columbus 76-51, Cleveland 71-49. Warmer Friday, turning cooler again Saturday and Sunday. Precipitation will average three-tenths to six tenths of an inch as scattered showers Friday or Saturday and again next week.

Saturday Declared Annual Poppy Day

Saturday has been officially declared "Poppy Day" in Circleville by Mayor Ben H. Gordon.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be in the downtown area Saturday to the annual benefit. The women volunteers will give each person who contributes a traditional "poppy" made by disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

Proceeds from the Poppy Day are a major source of support for a continuing program of rehabilitation and child welfare directed by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Reruns have pretty well taken over the nation's television screens and the 1963-64 season has just about run its course.

The season will be well remembered for the coverage of the terrible events that started when shots rang out in Dallas on Nov. 22.

But it may be a memorable year in TV history for another reason: Negro performers began to turn up frequently in leading, supporting and extra roles in television dramas, and the sponsors began using Negroes in their commercials.

"East Side, West Side," which was canceled after a season, had a young Negro actress as a prominent regular in the cast. One of the teachers in "Mr. Novak's" high school was a Negro and the series was renewed for another season.

Reginald Rose, creator and in charge of scripts for "The Defenders," which has always used Negro performers as principal characters—judges, district attorneys, policemen and defendants—said recently that although the situation had indeed improved enormously in this area, there was still a way to go.

He still did not feel free, he said, "to cast a Negro in a villainous role," and suggested that the Negro's position would be really secure when such a casting job would not draw complaints from the sensitive.

It seems that New York has not lost, after all, the production of two of its five dramatic shows. The series moved to the West Coast after a local union strike shut down production.

Plautus Productions President Herbert Brodtkin said on Monday that "The Defenders" and "The Nurses" would be produced in Hollywood "indefinitely." Tuesday, however, a vice president said both shows would return to New York after shooting one episode each in Hollywood.

Health Association Studies Heart Ills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Public Health Association turns today to heart disease, infections and the presentation of awards as it winds up a two-day convention.

About 500 delegates have been attending the general and technical sessions.

They were told Tuesday that the campaign to educate the public against the dangers of cigarette smoking is a failure.

Pay Television Causes Rumble

NEW YORK (AP) — A big battle is rumbling over pay television.

At stake is perhaps the future of commercial television, the kind that beams programs free into the nation's sets.

Already in the fight are citizens' groups, movie theater owners and the National Association of Broadcasters. On the sidelines are the federal government, the major television networks and television executives.

What is involved? Mainly a new company called Subscription Television, Inc., headed by Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., former president of the National Broadcasting Co. Weaver says he aims to turn pay television from a novelty into a paying business.

The job will take considerable salesmanship. Many Americans today shrug off pay television with the question: Why should I pay to see television when I can see it now for free?

"Quality," answer pay television spokesmen. "We'll offer special sports events, first-run films, ballet, opera, Broadway plays, all uninterrupted by commercials."

If pay television is sold to the public, say its critics, it could change much of the entertainment industry.

Movie theater owners see the dollars going into pay television coin boxes or for monthly bills for programs.

The major television networks and the National Association of Broadcasters claim successful pay television eventually would buy away the best of the talent from free television, making the public pay for what it used to see for nothing.

The National Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System say one thing is certain: If pay television proves to be an overwhelming competitive force, they will join it.

"Eventually," says Leroy Collins, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, "pay television could actually destroy free television as we know it today."

The first repercussions are due this summer in California. Starting in July, Subscription Television, Inc., plans to bring three channels of closed-circuit pay television to at least 7,000 homes in Los Angeles and San Francisco. By the end of this year the company hopes to have 70,000 sets in the two cities wired for pay television; in five years, 1.5 million sets in California and 10 million in the nation.

"In 10 years," said Weaver in an interview here, "half of the sets in the nation could be receiving pay television."

So far, pay television hasn't proved itself. Other pay television operations in Chicago in 1957 didn't last.

Two pay television stations operate today. One, near Toronto, Canada, began in 1961 with 5,000 subscribers and now has 3,500. The other, in Hartford, Conn., began in 1962 with 300 customers and today has 5,000.

KKK-Battling Editor Now Is Fighting Paralysis

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP)—In 1953, Willard Cole won a Pulitzer Prize for a public crusade against Ku Klux Klan terrorists. Today he is waging a personal battle against partial paralysis.

Cole was editor of the semi-weekly Whiteville News-Reporter when he shared a Pulitzer public service award and other national press citations with W. Horace Carter, editor of the Tabor City Tribune, for three years of courageous campaigning against the KKK. During that period, hooded night riders terrorized the southeastern North Carolina countryside with floggings and cross burnings.

On Christmas Day, 1961, he suffered a stroke that paralyzed his legs and left arm and blocked part of his memory.

"First they thought they would just let me go ahead and kick the bucket," Cole recalled. But after an operation and three months rest he was back at his typewriter.

He still moves and talks slowly. His left arm hangs by his side. But his memory is again sharp.

Last December, Cole left his job as editor of the Lumberton Post and, at 58, started his own semi-weekly — the Robeson County Enterprise.

Recently, he sat in the old store which serves as his office and recalled his war with the KKK.

"Some people thought I was an s.o.b. and some thought I was a pretty smart guy."

"Things started to get pretty hot so I carried a gun every inch of the way. It got so I backed away from anybody who got too close."

"I let the word out around town that my wife had a shotgun and my boy, who was 17 at the time, had a 16-shot carbine. 'I told my son, 'They may get me one of these days, but you just take that carbine and sweep it around in front of the house and don't worry about me?'"

During the Klan's reign of terror in Columbus County, 13 persons, most of them white, were taken from their homes and flogged.

"Integration wasn't an issue at the time," Cole recalled. "They were after the type of person who spent his money on liquor instead of on his family."

Informants from within the ranks of the KKK finally provided police with enough information to make mass arrests. About 80 men, charged variously with kidnapping, assault and conspiracy, were convicted. Prison terms ranged up to six years.

They included former policemen, businessmen, farmers and two National Guard officers, all led by Thomas L. Hamilton, a poorly ex-grocer from Leesville, S.C. He got four years.

In the next North Carolina General Assembly a law was passed making it illegal to wear a mask or a hood in public.

SAVED TEMPORARILY—Dr. Jose Reposo, 40, hurtles downward as the Rescue Squad in Albany, N.Y., waits with a net. He was from Cuba, where his mother still lives.

Medical Mirror Better Health Through Knowledge

PHLEBITIS IS STUBBORN

Q. During an attack of phlebitis my doctor prescribed some tablets which I took for something less than a month. My leg is some better but the doctor now says that additional medicine won't help. Why not? I need to get back on the job.

A. Phlebitis, which simply means that a vein has become congested and inflamed, is not something that can be cleared up overnight. Drugs help subdue the initial inflammation and possible infection but after that it may be largely a matter of staying off the leg as much as possible until normal reparative processes take over. This may require a longer period of rest than you think you can afford, but don't go against your doctor's orders. Phlebitis is stubborn and you certainly don't want to risk unnecessary prolongation of the illness.

TOOTH EXTRACTION FOR HEART PATIENTS

Q. My mother, who has had one heart attack, has several bad teeth but is afraid to see a dentist. Is tooth extraction safe for a person who has a bad heart?

A. Yes, provided the dentist contacts the physician before any teeth are extracted. Armed with the knowledge of your mother's condition and what medicines, if any, she is taking, the dentist can "tailor" his approach to fit the circumstances.

Remember — the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

There is no need to leave a sick person alone while you make a hurried and worried trip to pick up the medicine. We'll deliver it promptly to your home.

Lattimore Lecturing Now in England

LEEDS, England (AP)—It's just over 10 years since Prof. Owen Lattimore—then lecturer in Chinese history at Johns Hopkins University—was caught in the turmoil of the McCarthy era rows, accused of being a Soviet agent.

Today he lives a quiet life in England, remote from political controversy, the troubles of the 50s just a memory. In one way he's started life again.

Last summer, Lattimore left Johns Hopkins University, where he had worked for 25 years, to head a new department of Chinese studies at Leeds University.

"I like it here," he says, and leans far back in his heavy office chair and the smoke from his pipe curls around his sandy hair. "It's not given to many men at 64 to be starting something new like I am. Most academics at my age are running down like unwound clocks."

He dresses in hairy Scottish tweed jackets and comes to his office each day from his nearby village home, which has the picturesque name of the Old

Rose Cottage. He lives there with his wife Eleanor. They have a son, David, now at Yale.

To Lattimore now his trials of the McCarthy days are memories he'd rather forget. He says he bears no grudges, still regards the United States as his home, and plans to go back there when he retires in 1967.

At one time during the 1950s Lattimore was branded by Wisconsin Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy as "the top Russian espionage agent in the United States." Later McCarthy modified this to read "one of the top" agents. At one point Lattimore was indicted on seven counts of perjury. In 1955 a federal court dismissed two of the counts and then the Justice Department dropped the rest.

"I was angry at the time," Lattimore said in an interview. "as anyone would be had they been so falsely accused. But is no use sitting around nursing rancor. That doesn't get you anywhere."

The dominating interest in Lattimore's life now is his department of Chinese studies. He is its first professor. It is a four-year degree course where the "language lab" system of tapes is used. Lattimore claims great success so far.

"At the end of 12 weeks," he said, "we had students taking simple dictation."

Lattimore sees an increasing need for a knowledge of China and Chinese as the nation grows in power and world importance. And it is a power and importance which cannot be ignored, he says.

Mrs. Mock completed her 29-day, 23,000-mile trip April 17. Mrs. Smith ended her 57-day, 27,500-mile trip May 12. Mrs. Mock says Mrs. Smith is a "poor loser."

You Can Join President's Club for Only $1,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—You can join the President's Club for $1,000.

Former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will be glad to take your money.

The Democratic National Committee named DiSalle, now practicing law in Columbus and Washington, to solicit Ohio memberships for the club that the late President John F. Kennedy started.

Special privileges attach to membership in the party fundraising enterprise.

Club members will greet President Lyndon B. Johnson at a special reception in advance of the banquet he will address here June 17. Each club member also will receive a ticket to the dinner costing guests $100 a plate.

Members also will receive two tickets for a special section at the Democratic National Convention opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City. Three convention lounges will be available only to members.

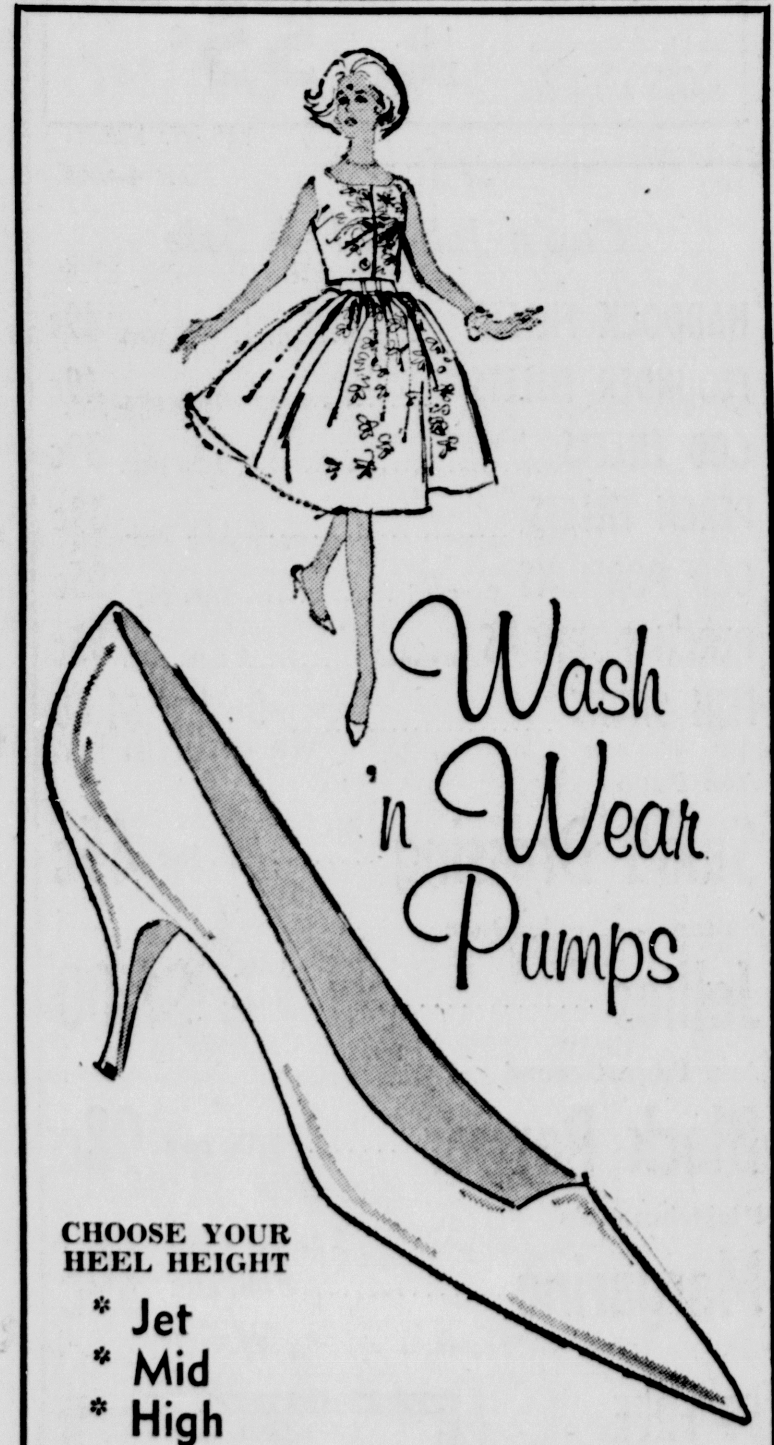

Special attention also is planned for members at the President's Aug. 28 birthday party, expected to coincide with his nomination.

DiSalle said memberships will be sought in cooperation with city and county Democratic organizations and through personal solicitation in Cleveland, Toledo, Akron, Youngstown, Columbus, Canton, Dayton and Cincinnati.

DiSalle said he would accept invitations to appear in any town, regardless of size, for memberships.

Half of the money raised will go to the party's state committee and half to the national committee for use in the Ohio campaign.

But the former governor said with tongue in cheek he would call off the whole drive if Republican State Chairman Ray C. Bliss would give Democrats one-third of the amount the GOP state committee raises for paign.

Know Your Horses

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Norman Kutler, publicity director for the Kiwanis Horse Show scheduled May 30 and 31 at the Fairgrounds, is writing a series of articles describing various classes that will be competing. This is the third story in the series.

Ponies for horse show purposes are those individual ponies measuring 14 hands 2 inches in height or less (1 hand equals 4 inches).

Those that stand higher than this are considered to be horses, with a few exceptions in the Arabian, Morgan, and quarter horse breeds. A pony or horse is measured from the highest point of its withers to the ground.

Ponies are shown under saddle only by junior exhibitors. Both junior and adult exhibitors are allowed to show them in harness.

Ponies for horse show purposes are included in most divisions of the larger and better horse shows.

The subject of ponies and their classifications is complicated. Information listed here will be limited to the most popular classes of this region.

PARADE PONIES — these can be of any breed or combination of breeds but are usually of hackney, saddle horse and Welsh breeding combinations. They are ridden by junior exhibitors and are shown under a stock saddle with silver, Mexican, or other appropriate equipment.

The gait is an animated walk, and the parade gait which is a slow high trot that does not exceed 5 miles per hour.

They are required to halt and to stand quietly from both the walk and parade gait. They are judged on manners, performance and conformation. The tack and equipment used on these ponies can amount to several thousands of dollars and frequently costs far more than the pony.

THREE GAITED PONIES — Three gaited saddle ponies shown under English tack follow the standards and specifications of similar classes for horses. They must be ridden by a junior exhibitor and have a roched main and tail. They should have the conformation, the graceful trot and easy canter typical of the saddle horse breed.

They are shown at a walk, trot and canter and are judged on manners, quality and performance in this order. The percentage applied to each is left to the discretion of the judge. It is possible that a pony with perfect manners may place higher in an entry than one that has better conformation and way-of-going.

ROADSTER PONIES — The roadster can be any breed or combination of breeds but should resemble the standardbred horse (harness race horse) in conformation and way-of-going. They should have an attractive appearance, well balanced conformation, and manners which make them a safe risk in the ring.

It shall be serviceably sound and is shown with quarter boots (white leather appliances placed around the two front feet to protect the heels of the front feet from being struck by the rear feet at speed gaits). They are judged on performance, speed, quality, and manners. The percentage applied to each is left to the discretion of the judge.

The gait used for judging is the trot which will be at 3 different speeds; the jog, road gait and full speed (three speeds of trotting). They enter the ring clockwise at the jog, and then are asked to turn counter-clockwise staying at the jog; showing the road gait when asked for; then to trot at speed.

Roadster classes are the only horses entering the show ring on the left side. This is due to the method of training standardbred race horses in which they are driven the reverse way of the track until they have had sufficient speed to be turned around and trained for maximum speed.

This procedure is used for three reasons in the show ring, first it is the training custom; second, to warm them up before they are asked to go their maximum speed; and third, the drivers are perhaps jockeying for an advantageous position. They should be able to go at all gaits both ways of the ring if requested to do so by the judge.

Animation, brilliance and presence should characterize the roadster at a jog and road gait, and must go in form at the speed gait. Pacing or mixed gaits and horses that pace or rack the turns, and break and run on the turns shall be penalized.

They should be on the rail at all times except when passing and shall go to the end of each corner without side reining. Road ponies are shown to two wheel vehicles with wire wheels and the attire of the driver shall be stable colors, cap and jacket to match. Junior and adult exhibitors may show these ponies.

HARNESS SHOW PONIES — Harness show ponies may be of any breed or combination of breeds with a long mane and an undocked tail. The vehicle is either a Viceroy or a miniature fine harness buggy. Overchecks (rein over the poll of the head to the hook on the saddle) are not permitted. Harness ponies shall not be over 12 hands 2 inches in height and these ponies are not allowed to be shown in the hackney pony division.

They are shown at a trot and excessive speed is neither required nor expected. The gait asked for is a park pace and "show your pony" which designates a smart trot. They are required to make at least 3 rounds of the ring, reverse and show in the opposite direction. In work outs every entry shall be shown both ways of the ring. Harness ponies are shown by both junior exhibitors and adults. They are judged on performance, quality, and manners.

WESTERN SHOW PONIES — These classes are open to stallions, mares, or geldings. They shall be animated, well mannered and go collected. Colorful appearance of both horse and rider is essential and may be of any color or breed and shall have full manes and tails.

The tack shall be the same as that used on parade ponies and the attire of the rider shall be western clothing. Curb chains are optional and the qualifying gaits are walk, trot, and canter. These ponies are ridden by a junior exhibitor and are judged on 60 per cent performance and manners, and 40 per cent on conformation and soundness.

Assured of second place in the SCO, Circleville has a 5-2 record against league opponents. The Tigers are 7-5-1 overall.

Pleasant View is tops in the loop with a 5-1 mark and Greenfield McClain remaining on the schedule. A loss for the PV Panthers would give Circleville a share of the title.

George Reeser, veteran Tiger moundsman, picked up yesterday's win.

IN HIS final pitching appearance in a Tiger uniform, the fireballing righthander limited the visitors to three hits. He fanned eight and issued a lone base on balls.

For the season, Reeser has won five and lost one — an extra inning tournament tilt to Marion Franklin. Reeser's four-year record at Circleville is 18 wins and seven losses.

The losing pitcher was Bozeman who also turned in an excellent mound performance.

Touched for six hits, including a triple by Chet Iery and a double by Skip Lutz — both of which scored runs — he fanned three. Not one Tiger reached first base on a walk.

The Tigers held the Franklin Heights Falcons scoreless until the top of the fourth inning. Robert Malone led off the frame with a single for the Falcons, his second of the game.

REESER set the next two Falcons batters down on strikeouts. But Kitchen then topped a slow grounder between first and second base.

Reeser, covering first, missed the throw from Howard Dade and Malone was able to score.

No one reached base for the visitors in the fifth. In the sixth the first man up walked, but was doubled off second on a sharp grounder to Dave Greene at short.

In the final frame, Bozeman reached first on an error with two out. He died on the base path.

For Circleville, the first run to score came early.

CHS Tigers Close Season With 2-1 Win over Falcons

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville Tiger baseball team closed its season on a winning note yesterday at Ted Lewis Park, edging Franklin Heights 2-1 in a South Central Ohio League contest.

Assured of second place in the SCO, Circleville has a 5-2 record against league opponents. The Tigers are 7-5-1 overall.

Pleasant View is tops in the loop with a 5-1 mark and Greenfield McClain remaining on the schedule. A loss for the PV Panthers would give Circleville a share of the title.

In the final frame, Bozeman reached first on an error with two out. He died on the base path.

For Circleville, the first run to score came early.

Lutz was safe on an error at first base during the Tigers' initial turn at bat. Iery blasted the first pitch thrown at him for a triple, scoring Lutz.

IN THE third inning, Circleville scored again when Dade led off with a single, stole second and then scored on Lutz's double. It was the only earned run of the game.

For Circleville, only five men were left on base. Franklin Heights had four runners stranded.

A rubarb arose in the third inning when Payne of Franklin Heights reached first on an error. Dade held on to the ball. Payne stepped off base and was tagged out by the Tiger first sacker.

However, Franklin Heights coach Ed Lewis claimed time had been called before his player was tagged. The umpires ruled differently.

Lewis announced he was completing the game under protest. Circleville coach Don Neff said, after the game, the call was an umpire's decision and Lewis had no valid protest.

Playing their last game in a Tiger uniform were Dave Bass, a four-year letterman at second base; Reeser, a three-year veteran on the mound; Skip Lutz, three-year letterman at third; Dave Greene, two letters at shortstop and in a utility role; and Tom Copland, Tiger catcher.

Palmer Aims His Efforts At U.S. Open

DALLAS (AP) — Arnold Palmer says "I find myself thinking of the Open more this year than ever before."

This means he was slowly and methodically getting himself ready for the second leg on his projected golfing Grand Slam — the Masters, National Open, British Open and U.S. PGA.

He already has won the Masters. The Open, at Bethesda, Md., is a month away.

Palmer was here Tuesday to play in an exhibition with Byron Nelson, Tony Lema and Bob Charles. He shot a one-under-par 70, a score matched by Charles over the 6,600-yard Brook Hollow Golf Club course. "Last year I felt I got ready too early, so this time I'm taking it easy and making sure particularly that I'm physically ready," said Palmer. He added that he had done the same thing before the Masters.

Palmer has played in 11 tournaments, won two and finished in the first five places six times. He has taken down $41,673, which puts him only $2,625 behind the year's leader, Jack Nicklaus.

Hogan Defeats Snead In Television Match

HOUSTON (AP) — Ben Hogan shot a three-under par 69 Tuesday to defeat Sam Snead by three strokes in Shell's "Wonderful World of Golf" which will be shown next January on television.

Hogan never missed the fairway, never found a sandtrap, hit all 18 greens and was putting for a birdie or eagle on every hole.

Practice Game Slated

Kiwanis and L. M. Butch teams in the Babe Ruth Major League will play a practice game 6 p. m. tonight at the Ted Lewis Park.

Navy's football team next fall will have nine lettermen on the 11-man two-way unit.

Jackson Wins Slugfest at Monroe, 14-8

Jackson outscored Monroe in a slugfest at Five Points yesterday by a 14-8 margin to take over the lead in the Pickaway County League race with a 5-2 record.

The game saw the Wildcats blast 16 hits while the Indians came up with nine.

Home runs highlighted the Jackson attack. Ray Mowery cracked a four-bagger, a triple and a single to pace the winning hitters.

Dickie Overly belted a homer and a pair of singles while Dick Hix had a homerun and a single. Dwight Whaley poled a double and two singles, Meredith O'Dell hit three singles and Ed Martindale had two singles.

FOR THE Indians, Rex Ingman had a double and a single, Tom Seeley a homerun and Gary Moore a double and two singles.

The Wildcats scored in all but the third inning. O'Dell was the winning pitcher, walking four, fanning 11 and allowing nine hits.

Gary Moore was chased with the loss. He whiffed eight, issued seven bases on balls and was touched for 16 hits.

The Wildcats have a game remaining with Williamsport.

After this fall Georgia Tech footballers will play two straight seven-home game seasons.

Broglie Uncorks 3 in Inning To Match Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Giants are wild about Jack Sanford today, but for being wild there's nothing in National League history that tops Ernie Broglie's performance.

Sanford, purposely held out of Monday's game against New York so he could open the key series against league-leading Philadelphia, responded with a four-hit, 3-0 victory over the Phillies Tuesday night that moved the Giants into the top spot by one game.

But if the Giants were cheering Sanford, the Chicago Cubs probably had to muffle their laughter over the plight of Broglie, the St. Louis right-hander who matched a league record by uncorking three wild pitches in one inning.

Andre Rodgers started the wild seventh inning for the Cubs with a walk and proceeded to steal second. He didn't have to steal third. Broglie wild pitched him there. After Dick Bertell walked, Broglie fired another one past Cardinal catcher Bob Uecker, who was beginning to get more exercise than a relay team.

Bertell reached second while Rodgers held third on the heave. Cub pitcher Dick Ellsworth then attempted a squeeze bunt with the count two strikes, but missed Uecker, however, immediately pivoted and headed to the backstop for wild pitch No. 3 as Rodgers scored and Ellsworth reached first.

That was all for Broglie. The Cubs weren't through, however, and went on to score three runs in the inning—on only one hit—building a 4-0 lead that led to a 7-4 victory. The loss left St. Louis in third place, two games back.

Elsewhere, Dick Tracewski played the key role as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 6-4. Warren Spahn won his 353rd game in Milwaukee's 4-2 triumph over Cincinnati and Houston downed Pittsburgh 3-1.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox held first place by edging Cleveland 5-3. Minnesota belted the New York Yankees 7-2 in 13 innings. Baltimore nipped Kansas City 3-2 in 10. Detroit took Washington 5-2 and Boston beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-3.

Sanford, now 4-3, was locked in a scoreless duel with Dennis Bennett until the seventh when Jim Hart collected his third hit, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Del Crandall's single. Sanford drove Crandall in with the second run of the inning, stroking a single that was bobbled by Wes Covington.

Hart went 4-for-4 on the night, driving in the final run in the eighth after Willie Mays walked. Mays walked three times and was 0-for-1 officially as his average dipped to .404.

Besides the help from Broglie in the seventh, the Cubs got some help in the eighth, scoring what turned out to be the decisive run when Ron Santo reached base on Dick Groat's error and eventually scored on Dick Bertell's single. Ken Boyer drove in four runs for the Cardinals, two with a homer. Billy Williams and Santo homered in support of Ellsworth, 3-4.

Tracewski singled in two runs with the bases loaded in the third for the Dodgers, then doubled and scored in the sixth. Tracewski's key single provided Phil Ortega with a 5-1 lead and he held on as the Mets rallied in the late innings. The Dodgers had scored twice in the first without a hit, using a walk, a hit batter, an infield out and a passed ball.

Spahn and Sam Ellis of the Reds were locked in a 1-1 tie die Electoral College vote in presidential elections, it makes it possible for a candidate to win a primary even though he trails in the popular vote.

A U.S. District Court in Baltimore has nullified the unit vote system in Maryland primaries for statewide office. It has set a hearing for Monday on a suit to apply the ban to the presidential primary also.

Brewster led in enough counties and Baltimore city districts to get a 92-79 margin in unit votes. But his popular vote edge in Baltimore County, which has 14 unit votes, was only 106 out of 93,000 cast.

A reversal of the unofficial vote in that county when the official count is taken in about a week could change the unit vote picture, but Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan has said this would be meaningless.

They can't change the rules in the middle of the game," Wallace insisted. An aide said the Baltimore County canvass would be closely observed.

Council Meet Is Short One

It was one of those rare occasions last night which saw Circleville Council in session for only a matter of minutes.

The meeting lasted about as long as it took President Harold Clifton to rap his gavel twice. Only three members, along with Clifton, were present.

The rules say four members must be present to constitute a quorum and conduct business. This being the case, Clifton opened and closed the session in almost the same breath.

Present were David Crawford, Robert Hedges and Joe Bell. Solon Keith Wagner has been admitted to Berger Hospital as a surgical patient and Frank Barnhill, John Jenkins and Boyd Horn were unable to be present.

Clifton said scheduled legislation will be carried over to the next session, set for June 2.

Soviets Plant 40 Secret Mikes in U.S. Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. security agents have dug more than 40 secret microphones out of the walls of the American Embassy building in Moscow during the past month and are searching for others which may still be hidden in the building.

Officials are investigating to determine if any important secret information was obtained by the Soviets through the microphone network.

Ambassador Foy D. Kohler has made a formal protest to the Soviet government over the listening devices.

The story of the hidden microphones was disclosed by the State Department Tuesday. A statement by the department's security chief, G. Marvin Gentile, said indications are the devices were "placed in the building prior to its occupancy by the United States" 11 years ago.

The building was assigned to the United States by the Soviet government for use as an embassy in 1952 and was occupied in the spring of 1953.

Officials said that not counting the newly found network, since 1949 more than 130 listening devices of various types were discovered and removed from U.S. Embassy buildings in Moscow and other Eastern European capitals.

They said any information losses which may have occurred through the microphone network were probably limited by "the measures taken for protection against such a possibility."

This apparently referred to the fact that all employees of embassies in Communist countries are warned frequently that their offices and residences may be bugged and are cautioned against discussing secret information where it might be picked up.

The microphones were dug out of the eighth, ninth and 10th floors of the Moscow embassy. It is on these floors that Kohler and his principal aides have their offices. Kohler's is on the ninth floor.

Officials said the Moscow embassy has been checked repeatedly for hidden microphones during the last 11 years. Recently it was decided to make a more exhaustive investigation, using demolition techniques—in other words, tearing up some of the walls. Official information did not make it clear why this decision was reached at this time.

Taft Raps Anti-Semitic Russian Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, urged Congress today to adopt a resolution condemning what he termed discriminatory acts by authorities in the Soviet Union.

In a statement prepared for delivery on the House floor, Taft said:

"As Americans we are greatly disturbed by recent evidence of discrimination against Jewish citizens in the Soviet Union. The suppression of Judaism is the suppression of all religions.

"For this reason, I have joined today in sponsoring a resolution by which the House would condemn discriminatory acts against Russian Jews."

His resolution, Taft said, would "express the conscience of troubled Americans who abhor anti-Semitism."

Taft, a candidate for the Senate in the November election, told the House that the Soviet constitution "purports to invest full and equal citizenship in the Jews."

"But present Russian rulers," Taft said, "ignore this provision as they have ignored so many others. The constitution's safeguards of religious freedom have become a mockery in the light of actual experience.
